

Twenty Sixth SPREP Meeting of Officials

Apia, Samoa
22nd – 24th September 2015

Agenda Item 10.2.3: Preparations for COP 21

Purpose

1. To update Members on SPREP's support for Pacific Island Member Countries attending the 21st Conference of the Parties (COP 21) to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC).

Background

2. COP 21 will be held in Paris, France, from December 1 to 11th. Pacific Island Member Countries are all Parties to this Convention, and will also be invited to take part in regional preparatory meetings in Paris, directly ahead of these meeting dates, including a meeting for Members of the Least Developed Country (LDC) group (week of November 23rd); Alliance of Small Island States (AOSIS) (week of November 23rd) and the Group of 77 and China (November 28th and 29th).

3. A key outcome of the Paris COP will be the adoption of a new 'protocol, another legal instrument or an agreed outcome with legal force' (as agreed at COP 17, in Durban), which will come into effect in 2020. While Parties have yet to agree on what an 'instrument of legal force' means, all 14 Pacific Island Member Countries have called for the final outcome to be a legally binding protocol.

4. To date, Pacific Island Member Countries have requested that the Paris outcome include the following elements:

- The Paris agreement be in the form of a legally binding protocol.
- The Paris agreement ensure that mitigation ambition (ie the reduction of greenhouse gases) be high enough to ensure the long term sustainability of all Pacific Island countries.
- Adequate, long term and sustainable finance must be made available to pacific island countries to enable them to adapt to climate change

- The agreement ensure the provision of technical and financial support for Pacific Island countries to address climate change impacts, through adaptation and capacity building.
- The Paris agreement should include a reference to support to enable countries to address loss and damage from the adverse impacts of climate change.
- The Paris agreement should also provide support for Pacific Island countries to mitigate climate change, and support the movement towards low carbon economies.
- Any support mechanisms (finance, capacity building or technology) should take into account the special needs and capacities of small island developing states.

5. Given the high priority that Pacific Island Member Countries have placed on this upcoming COP, SPREP has taken the lead in implementing many actions to support PIC's in their preparations for this event. Some of these support activities are listed in the table below:
