I want to start by acknowledging the very inspirational devotion by Pastor Kosi Latu, whom many of you might not know but has been a Pastor for a very long time. I agree that there are some things in life where despite our best efforts, we have our limitations and we need help and divine intervention.

I also want to thank Prime Minister Hon. Fiame Naomi Mata’afa for her opening remarks. I congratulate Samoa on her 60th independence anniversary and thank Samoa for the continued support to SPREP. Prime Minister Fiame’s comments about the ‘lived reality’ of climate change in the Pacific is a familiar story for all of us. It has set the tone for our work in the next two days as we work towards a more resilient Pacific. This being my first Executive Board Meeting as the Director General of SPREP, I want to welcome you all. I thank our members for your confidence in me and your support over the last five months.

Although these are very challenging times especially with the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, I want to say that these are also exciting times. There are a lot challenges before us but there are also a lot of opportunities and I look forward to working with members for the rest of my term as the Director General to ensure these opportunities benefit our Pacific people.

We do not work in isolation. In our efforts to fulfil our vision of “a resilient Pacific environment, sustaining our livelihoods and natural heritage in harmony with our cultures”, we are extremely grateful to our valued Members, development partners, donors and all stakeholders.

Let me say thank you to all our members for their continued commitment and support of SPREP, especially their timely member contributions. I acknowledge the longstanding support of the Governments of Australia and New Zealand through their continued multiyear funding support towards SPREP’s core budget, which enables SPREP to deliver services and support to Members. We welcome the AUD10m funding support from the Government of Australia to support the PCCC and UNFCCC negotiations. This support from Australia will strengthen the engagement of Pacific Island Countries and amplify Pacific voices at COP negotiation processes.

I note the request from the European Union, our largest donor partner, to attend as an observer and the need for us as a full membership to review the Rules and Procedures for the Executive Board. In that light, EU and other partners had informally raised that they were interested in being more than just observers and suggested the possibility of looking at what Pacific Islands Forum Secretariat does with their special dialogue partner. This is an important matter for us to consider.

I also want to note SPREP’s reaccreditation to the Green Climate Fund, which includes conditions for the Secretariat to address. The challenges and barriers faced by Pacific countries to effectively access climate finance to address climate change priorities is not a secret. Our Members have constantly asked that we raise these with the funding mechanisms and through relevant forums such as at UNFCCC COP processes.

The 2050 Strategy has been endorsed by our Pacific Leaders. This requires a concerted and collective commitment to implement the priorities articulated in the 2050 Strategy. The review of the regional architecture reinforces the mandate and role of SPREP as the premier regional environment organisation.
in addressing environmental threats and impacts of climate change facing our region. This presents other opportunities for us to advance our work.

I am looking forward to our discussion in the next two days. We have an opportunity to review the efforts of the Secretariat in our ongoing pursuit to meet our mandate through the delivery of our Strategic Plan and support to our members to effectively engage internationally and in their efforts to meet their national obligations.

Lastly, I want to acknowledge the outgoing Chair for your leadership. I also want to thank all our staff members for their perseverance and commitment to ensure the services to Members continued amidst the challenges of COVID-19.

 Vinaka vaka levu!
Excellencies,
Distinguished guests,
Ladies and gentlemen,

I welcome you all to your Third SPREP Executive Board Meeting, held virtually for the second time. In particular, I extend warm greetings and acknowledgement to:

- the incoming Chair for 2022, the Kingdom of Tonga and Troika Members, Tokelau and the Solomon Islands;
- Executive Board Members;
- SPREP members and partner countries and agencies as Observers to this meeting; and
- the Director General of SPREP and Secretariat staff.

Director-General – with more than 30 years of experience in the field of environment and sustainable development in our Blue Pacific region and beyond, as well as in international organisations, you are no stranger to the work of SPREP and our regional organisations as well as the development aspirations and priorities of our Member countries. I extend to you again warm congratulations on your appointment as the Director General of our organisation and we look forward to working very closely with you during your tenure.

The social, economic and development costs of the pandemic coupled with the current climate emergency are still being felt acutely by many of our Member countries. I am deeply grateful for the timely responses and assistance provided by SPREP, as well as our regional organisations and development partners, to support our Pacific countries’ efforts in addressing the dual crises of the pandemic and climate change. Despite the limitations and challenges that we have faced, I am very pleased to note that these have not diminished our commitment and obligation to addressing and supporting the needs of our Pacific peoples and region. To further advance our recovery efforts, we need to strengthen our resilience, and by extension, our participation as full partners in the determination of priorities, context and decisions being made for our own future.

The work of SPREP reflects the multi-faceted nature of our Blue Pacific region’s work and priorities. But it also attests to the fact that the complexity and multitude of challenges that we face cannot be addressed by any one organisation or country alone. Your meeting as the Executive Board of our organisation provides you the opportunity to discuss issues that affect sustainable development, resilience and our joint regional efforts and cooperation to protect and conserve the environment. Your dialogue with the Secretariat will help inform and shape our shared priorities and mutual goals, to be met through robust and genuine partnerships.

I wish to recall that our Leaders have reconfirmed that climate change remains the single greatest existential threat facing the Blue Pacific. Leaders have also declared that the Pacific is facing a Climate Emergency that threatens the livelihoods, security and wellbeing of its people and ecosystems, backed by the latest science and the daily lived realities in Pacific communities. Our region’s priorities for COP27 have been considered by Leaders and we look forward to SPREP’s and our CROP agencies’ support. for our preparations and strategic engagement at COP27. In acknowledging the third anniversary of the Pacific Climate Change Centre, we look forward to continuing and successful efforts to further enhance our capacities through knowledge, training, networking and research to ensure Pacific-tailored solutions to address our adaptation needs and mitigation priorities.

Our region’s work and leadership on ocean governance must continue unhindered. I commend our Members’ concerted efforts to preserve and protect our greatest natural resource including support for the Pacific Regional Action Plan on Marine Litter and banning the use of single-use plastic bags, plastic and polystyrene packaging. I referred earlier to the daily ‘lived realities in Pacific communities’, and we know that failure to address waste management and pollution will have profound and lasting impacts on the health and well-being of our people.

The 2050 Strategy for the Blue Pacific Continent endorsed by Forum Leaders in July provides the decisive overarching framework within which all of us should work together to manage our shared challenges, as well as leverage and exploit our strengths and our opportunities to secure our long-term future. A strengthened regional architecture and the successful implementation of the Boe Declaration are essential to the 2050 Strategy, and in this regard I commend the steadfast support and contribution by SPREP to these important work.

We are never alone in our development journey and I wish to acknowledge the support and generosity of our Metropolitan Members and all our development partners. In particular, I wish to thank Australia and New Zealand for their continued direct contribution to the core budget of SPREP through multi-year agreements.

You have a full work programme before you and important decisions to be considered. I wish you success in your deliberations and look forward to your Outcomes. I also look forward to welcoming you back to Apia in the not too distant future. I am pleased to declare your meeting open.
